

From the Laurel Theater to Highlander

From 16th St. or James Agee St., take a left onto Clinch Avenue (located one block behind the Laurel Theater) and travel eastbound toward the Sunsphere and downtown Knoxville for 0.5 miles. At the traffic light at Henley St. (just after you've passed the Sunsphere), you'll turn left. Once you've made the turn, move to the far right lane and take I-40 East (toward Asheville).

Exit from I-40 at exit 398, Strawberry Plains. Turn left (north) at the end of the exit ramp and proceed for 3.1 miles to the stop sign. Be cautious of traffic here. Turn right onto Hwy. 25W-70.

Once on Hwy. 25W-70, proceed for 9.2 miles to Russell Gap Road. (About halfway, you will pass the Handy Dandy convenience store; about 2 miles down the road, there will be a long white fence on your left – following it, Russell Gap is the second road on the left. Across from the turn is a sign on the right that reads Holiway Farms.)

Turn left onto Russell Gap Road and proceed for 1.4 miles along a road with three deep curves. You will see a blue pole with the Highlander sign on your right. Take the paved road up the hill. The Administrative Building is on your right. You'll see other buildings and a tent further up the hill. Signs will direct you to parking.
